

Hookslide PR

hook:

four guys five parts one big sound

Press release and quick bio

Hookslide is a high energy mix of mind blowing vocal beatbox percussion, booming bass and screaming four-part harmony that is guaranteed to knock you out. No instruments? No Problem! Based in San Francisco, this award-winning vocal group has traveled throughout the nation and is currently riding the success of their recently released studio project "Original Spin." Hookslide claims to sing five parts with only four members. How do they do it? Come to the show to find out!
